Free People's first-ever bridal collection, FP Ever After, fulfills every bohemian girl's wedding dreams: billowing silhouettes, intricate lace, vintage-inspired embroidery, and the effortless air of romance we've come to expect from the Philly-based clothier. The 15-piece collection—which showcases long-sleeved gowns, two-piece sets and a few airy off-the-shoulder styles—features exclusive collaborations with smaller artisanal bridal brands like Grace Loves Lace as well as a handful of limited-edition designs that we're pretty sure you'll agree are destined for your beach wedding. Prices range from $700 to $4,000. Available online only; freepeople.com.
